eCl@ss Reference-Application

The eCl@ss Reference-Application is a PC-based software to support the implementation of eCl@ss technical concepts in software applications.

The eCl@ss Reference-Application supports software-implementers to reduce implementation time for eCl@ss implementations and to increase implementation quality by easy verification against the eCl@ss standard.

The eCI@ss CRD (Center for Research and Development) working group is responsible for the technical development of the eCI@ss standard. In cooperation with the eCI@ss CRD working group Paradine GmbH developed the eCI@ss Reference Application.

The eCI@ss Reference-Application is a PC-based software to support the implementation of eCI@ss technical concepts in software applications.

The target groups for the eCI@ss Reference Application are software developers and software-implementers to verify their eCI@ss implementations against the eCI@ss standard.

Use cases

- Verify own eCI@ss implementations
- Check quality of eCI@ss artifacts
- Check of data exchange documents
- Evaluation and verification of new concepts

Benefits

The eCI@ss Reference-Application supports software-implementers to reduce implementation time for eCI@ss implementations and to increase implementation quality by easy verification against the eCI@ss standard.

eCI@ss Releases and eCI@ss XML formats

eCI@ss Reference-Application Version 2.0

- supports eCI@ss-XML 2.0
- used for eCI@ss to eCI@ss Release 10.1

eCI@ss Reference-Application Version 2.1

- supports eCI@ss-XML 3.0
- used with eCI@ss from eCI@ss Release 11.0

Delivery contains

The eCI@ss Reference-Application is a file-based system and does NOT include a database. The delivery includes a license certificate, an executable program, a manual for installation and usage and a license file which is requested after installation.

NOT in Scope

The eCI@ss Reference-Application is not intended to support end users or verify production data (e.g. BMEcat production catalogs, eCI@ss workflow documents, etc.). Documents to be verified are limited in size.

Versions, Maintenance and Support

The eCI@ss Reference-Application is a cooperation between eCI@ss e.V. and Paradine. Paradine is developer and also responsible for maintenance and support of the application.

New releases are provided if required by new eCI@ss Releases, newly supported data models or new concepts introduced in eCI@ss (e.g. eCI@ss XML 3.0).

Target group

- Software developers and software implementers as well as companies providing electronic product catalogs or marketplaces.
- System providers who intend to offer eCI@ss interfaces (e.g. to support eCI@ss Workflow) for their systems (CAX systems, ERP systems, electronic catalogs).
- Product Manufacturers and suppliers who intend to support eCI@ss workflow or provide eCI@ss-based product data or catalog electronically.

Requirement

- eCI@ss License and Dictionary

Our offer

- Software-license
- Maintenance and support contract
- Documentation
- Training, workshops and webinars
- Optionally Paradine offers consulting services and implementation support
